

Kaan KARAHASAN

Computer Engineering Student

ABOUT ME

I am a 4th-year Computer Engineering student at Osmaniye Korkut Ata University. I'm interested in both the theoretical and practical aspects of software development. My focus areas include system programming, mobile app development, and open-source technologies. I've actively used C, C++, and Python in academic and personal projects. On the mobile side, I have experience developing applications using React Native and TypeScript. I have also worked with Swift and SwiftUI for iOS development. I'm familiar with Linux environments and command-line tools, and I'm continuously improving my skills in this area. I have a strong interest in innovative fields such as network technologies, artificial intelligence, and next-generation communication systems. I enjoy solving problems, have a strong willingness to learn, and approach technical challenges with curiosity. My goal is to grow through real-world project experience and make meaningful contributions in the field of technology.
